Regional rivals faceoff this week in Annapolis, Md. as Rutgers travels south to face the Midshipmen of Navy on Saturday, Sept. 20. The Scarlet Knights (0-2) are in search of their first victory of the season and their fourth straight in the series vs. Navy (1-2).

CBS College Sports Network will broadcast the game in HD to a national audience. Tom Hart (play-by-play) and Trev Alberts (analyst) will have the call. Kickoff is set for 3:32 p.m.

Going for Four Straight

Rutgers will look to equal its longest win streak in series history vs. Navy with a victory Saturday in Annapolis. The longest winning streak for Rutgers in the series is four games - dating from 1969-1995.

The Scarlet Knights have won six of the last seven meetings vs. the Mids, including a 34-0 victory at Navy in 2006. The 2006 shutout win marked the last time Rutgers has blanked an opponent on the road.

Rutgers is also looking for its second straight victory in Annapolis. Only one other time in series history - 1998 and 2000 - the Scarlet Knights have been able to win consecutive games in Annapolis.

Three of the four Maryland natives should see time vs. the Mids. Warren is recovering from a knee injury in high school and has yet to play in 2008 for the Scarlet Knights.

Rutgers Stadium Sold Out for 2008

For the second consecutive season, Rutgers is sold out for its entire home schedule. With the seven home games sold out for 2008, it moves Rutgers' consecutive sell-out streak at Rutgers Stadium to 17 games, the longest streak in the BIG EAST.

The most fans in school history - 349,306 - entered the gates at Rutgers Stadium in 2007. Rutgers averaged a school-record 43,663 fans per game in 2007.

TV Time

For the 39th consecutive game, Rutgers will appear on television this week at Navy. The Scarlet Knights have appeared on television in 50 of their last 51 games, including 29 straight games on some form of national television (including ESPN GamePlan PPV appearances).

The Century Club

Junior WR Kenny Britt tied the Rutgers career record with his seventh 100-yard receiving game Sept. 11 vs. North Carolina. Britt led RU with eight receptions for 109 yards.

He is tied for the top spot in RU history in 100-yard receiving games with Tres Moses (2001-05) and former All-America TE Marco Battaglia (1992-95).

Senior WR Tiquan Underwood is second in school history with six career 100-yard receiving games.

Britt Continues Assault on Record Books

Kenny Britt is now seventh in school history with 1,870 yards receiving and needs just 130 yards to become only the sixth player in school history to record 2,000 yards receiving. Britt owns the single-season school record with 1,232 receiving yards set in 2007.

Rutgers Career Receiving Yards Leaders

1. Tres Moses (2001-05)	2,522
2. Andrew Baker (1981-84)	2,268
3. Marco Battaglia (1992-95)	2,221
4. Jim Guarantano (1989-92)	2,065
5. Clark Harris (2003-06)	2,015
6. Chris Brantley (1990-93)	1,914
7. Kenny Britt (2006-present)	1,870
8. Brian Leonard (2003-06)	1,868

Te Time

Redshirt freshman PK San San Te connected on the first two field goals of his career Sept. 11 vs. North Carolina. Te booted a 34 and 32-yard field goal against the Tar Heels. The North Carolina native is 2-for-4 on field goal attempts on the season.

South Jersey Stopper

Junior LB Ryan D'Imperio leads the BIG EAST with 21 tackles. The South Jersey native totaled a career-high 13 tackles last time out vs. North Carolina.

In his first year as the full-time starter at middle linebacker, D'Imperio leads all BIG EAST players with 14 assisted tackles.

D'Imperio broke his leg in the spring of 2007 and forced him to miss the start of the 2007 season. Now completely healthy, D'Imperio has been one of the leaders of the Scarlet Knight defense in 2008.

Racking Up The Tackles

The linebacking trio of senior Kevin Malast, Ryan D'Imperio and redshirt freshman Manny Abreu started together for the first time vs. Fresno State. The three players combined for 24 tackles as the unit has quickly developed into one of the defense's best position groups.

Malast led all players in the Fresno State game with nine tackles. D'Imperio, making his second career start in the opener, totaled eight stops.

Abreu made his first start for the Scarlet Knights and finished with seven tackles and half a sack.

Welcome to Rutgers

Jourdan Brooks made his debut in the Rutgers backfield Sept. 11 vs. North Carolina. The redshirt freshman performed well at running back, totaling seven carries for 42 yards (6.0 yards per carry average).

Here is the list of Scarlet Knights who have made their first career appearances this season:

Welcome Back Kordell

Redshirt sophomore RB Kordell Young made his return from a torn ACL and earned the start at running back in the season-opener vs. Fresno State.

The West Deptford, N.J., native rushed for a career-high 94 yards on a career-high 26 carries in the season-opener vs. Fresno State. He missed the UNC game due to a knee injury.

Young also scored his first touchdown in the Fresno game since Oct. 14, 2006 against Navy. His 26 carries were also the second-highest total ever for a game for Young. He totaled 27 rushing attempts as a senior in high school in one game.

Young, one of six starters from South Jersey on the roster, suffered his knee injury in the third game of the 2007 season vs. Norfolk State and was forced to miss the remainder of the year.

Rutgers Stadium Expansion

The Board of Governors of Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey, approved a plan in January of 2008 to expand Rutgers Stadium.

The $102 million project, which will increase the stadium's seating capacity to 56,000, will be funded entirely by the revenue generated from ticket sales for the 14,000 new seats and from private donations. Rutgers students will continue to have access to football tickets free of charge.

The first phase of the project - a new mezzanine level with club seats and loge boxes - opened to rave reviews Sept. 1 at the Fresno State game.

Airing it Out

Senior QB Mike Teel set a school record with 20 touchdown passes in 2007. He also finished second in single-season school history with 3,147 yards passing.

Teel is the second player in Rutgers history with three consecutive 300-yard passing games. Ryan Hart (2002-05) holds the school record for consecutive 300-yard passing games with seven during the 2004 season.

Teel is second in Rutgers history with six 300-yard passing games.

The senior from Oakland, N.J. is 21-10 as Rutgers' starting quarterback. He has started 28 consecutive games under center.

Spreading the Wealth

Mike Teel completed passes to seven different receivers in the Fresno State game. Teel completed passes to three wide receivers, one tight end, two running backs and a fullback.

The WR tandem of Kenny Britt and Tiquan Underwood combined for 12 receptions and 162 yards vs. the Bulldogs to lead the Scarlet Knight offense.

Tough Up the Middle

Senior captain and DT Pete Tverdov is expected to be one of the team's defensive anchors in 2008 and he started the season in strong fashion in the first game of the year vs. Fresno State.

Tverdov was all over the field in the opener, finishing with seven tackles, two tackles for loss, one sack, one QB hurry and a pass breakup.

Spanning Three Centuries

Rutgers Football, now in its 139th season, has played only three opponents in the 19th, 20th, and 21st centuries. The three - Army, Navy and North Carolina - are all on the 2008 schedule.

Three Straight Bowls for Rutgers

For the first time in school history, the Scarlet Knights played in a bowl for the third consecutive season with their appearance in the 2008 International Bowl.

Rutgers won its second straight bowl - another first in school history - with a 52-30 victory over Ball State in the International Bowl.

Starting a Bowl Tradition

Before Greg Schiano's arrival at Rutgers, the Scarlet Knights played in one bowl game in 131 seasons of football. In seven seasons at the helm of the program, Schiano has guided Rutgers to three straight bowl games.

The Scarlet Knights are one of 34 teams to play in three consecutive bowls. Among BCS members, Rutgers is one of 25 schools to play in three straight bowl games and just one of three BIG EAST programs to play in three consecutive bowls (Rutgers, West Virginia, USF). All-time, Rutgers is 2-2 in post-season play.

Protecting the Quarterback

In the direction of assistant head coach/offensive line coach Kyle Flood, Rutgers has allowed just 19 sacks since 2006 - the fewest amount in the nation. The Scarlet Knights led the Football Bowl Subdivision in fewest sacks allowed in 2006 with eight and followed with just 10 sacks yielded last season to tie for second nationally.

Britt/Underwood Return as Nation's Second Leading WR Tandem

Kenny Britt and Tiquan Underwood return as the nation's second leading wide receiver tandem in 2008. Last season, the two players both went over the 1,000-yard mark in receiving. It marked just the 26th time in NCAA history and the first time in BIG EAST history two players from the same team had 1,000 yards receiving in the same season.

The pair also became the second and third players in Rutgers history to eclipse 1,000 receiving yards in a season. The first Scarlet Knight to achieve the feat was Tres Moses, who posted 1,056 yards in 2004.

The 1,232 yards receiving by Britt led the BIG EAST in 2007 and was the fifth-best total in single-season history by a BIG EAST player. Underwood ended the season second in RU history with 1,100 yards receiving.

The 1,200 Club

Rutgers has played the most football games of any Football Bowl Subdivision school with 1,216 games played. All-time, Rutgers is 588-586-42.

Three other schools will join the exclusive list later this year. Navy will play its 1,200th college football game on Oct. 25 against SMU. Michigan will play its 1,200th game on Nov. 1 against Purdue, while Nebraska will play game number 1,200 against Colorado on Nov. 28.

Not in a Rush

Since Greg Schiano took over as defensive coordinator for the Scarlet Knights, Rutgers' defense has limited the opposition to less than 100 yards rushing 14 times, including three games with negative yards rushing.

Nine times during Schiano's tenure as defensive coordinator, the Rutgers defense has yielded less than 200 yards of total offense to an opponent.

The "Chop Shop"

A school-record crowd of 44,267 were in attendance as the Scarlet Knights upset No. 2 USF 30-27 last season. The Scarlet Knights have posted the eight largest crowds in school history over the last two seasons.

Currently, the growing waiting list for season tickets is over 12,000 as the Scarlet Knights have played in front of 12 straight sell-out crowds at Rutgers Stadium, the longest current streak in the BIG EAST.

South Jersey Scarlet Knights

South Jersey has become a hot spot for Rutgers' recruiting in recent years as the Scarlet Knights have six starters from the southern part of the Garden State.

Below are six South Jersey standouts who are currently the starter at their respective position:

Center - Ryan Blaszczyk (Medford Lakes)
Running Back - Kordell Young (West Deptford)
Fullback - Jack Corcoran (Atlantic City)
Defensive End - George Johnson (Glassboro)
Defensive Tackle - Alex Silvestro (Gibbstown)
Middle Linebacker - Ryan D'Imperio (Sewell)

Off the Field Honors for Underwood

Due to his tremendous work and volunteer time away from the football field, Tiquan Underwood has been nominated for the 17th annual Allstate AFCA Good Works Team. Underwood has been heavily involved in Rutgers' community service programs, including volunteer work with Special Olympics New Jersey. He is just one of several Scarlet Knight football players who have offered their time.

Underwood has spent time speaking to children about the importance of education at several area local schools, including MacAfee Elementary School, Linwood Middle School, Notre Dame Elementary School, Franklin High School and Somerset Middle School.

On the field, Underwood was a First Team All-BIG EAST selection in 2007. He finished second in Rutgers history with 1,100 yards receiving and tied for third in the BIG EAST with 7.1 receptions per game.

Watch Out!

No. 3 Nationally in APR

The Rutgers football team was ranked No. 3 in the nation in the Academic Progress Rate according to the latest APR figures released by the NCAA. The Scarlet Knights have a four-year APR score of 977, which covers the academic years of 2003-04, 2004-05, 2005-06 and 2006-07.

The top five Football Bowl Subdivision schools in terms of APR are Stanford (986), Navy (979), Rutgers (977), Duke (977) and Air Force (976). For the second consecutive year, Rutgers football has the best APR mark of any state university in the nation.

The Rutgers football team was one of only six Football Bowl Subdivision programs to be ranked in the top 10 percent in the APR scores. Rutgers is the lone state university on the list and the only institution to have its football team ranked in the top 10 percent of the APR and to have won a bowl game last season.

The APR provides a real-time look at a team's academic success each semester by tracking the academic progress of each student-athlete. The APR includes eligibility, retention, and graduation in the calculation and provides a clear picture of the academic culture in each sport.

Scouting This Week's Opponent: Navy

Navy enters Saturday's contest 1-2 on the season under the direction of first-year head coach Ken Niumatalolo. An assistant coach with the Midshipmen for the previous 11 seasons, Niumatalolo was promoted to head coach after former mentor Paul Johnson departed to take over the Georgia Tech program.

Navy is coming off of a 41-31 loss at Duke this past week.

The Mids' option offense is currently averaging 370.3 rushing yards per game which ranks first in the nation.

Leading the offense this season is senior quarterback/slot back Jarod Bryant, who took over for injured three-year starter Kaipo-Noa Kaheaku-Enhada. In three games, Bryant has rushed for 214 yards and three TDs. He has also passed for 216 yards and two scores.

Joining Bryant in the backfield is slot back Shun White. White has gained 607 yards on the ground and four touchdowns. White leads the nation with 196 rushing yards per game, including a school-record 348 rushing yards in the season-opening victory vs. Towson.

Game Three - Rutgers at Navy

September 1, 2008

No. 25 Fresno State 24, Rutgers 7

PISCATWAY, N.J. – Rutgers was unable to capitalize on first half opportunities in a 24-7 season opening loss to No. 25 Fresno State at Rutgers Stadium. Following a scoreless first half, the Bulldogs came to life after intermission, scoring on all four trips inside the red zone to send RU's 11th-straight capacity crowd home disappointed.

Rutgers employed a balanced offensive attack, passing 39 times while rushing on 34 occasions en route to 369 total yards. Senior signal caller Mike Teel completed 20 of 39 passes for 263 yards to lead the aerial attack. Sophomore Kordell Young paced the ground game, rushing for a career-high 94 yards on 26 carries.

Fresno State broke the tie on its first possession of the second half. After driving 57 yards on nine plays, redshirt freshman Kevin Goessling split the uprights from 31 yards to provide the visitors a 3-0 edge.

The Bulldogs extended their lead on their next possession, courtesy of a successful play action pass. On a first and 10 from its 19-yard line, quarterback Tom Brandstater faked a hand-off before finding a streaking Ajirotutu down the right sideline for a 77-yard connection. Matthews scampered in for a four-yard touchdown on the next play to enable a 10-0 Bulldog advantage with 6:59 showing on the third quarter clock.

Down 10-0, Rutgers registered its points via an inspired, nine play, 81-yard drive that culminated in a one-yard run by Young. The score reduced the deficit to 10-7 with 11:20 remaining in regulation. The drive featured Teel passes of 25, 24 and 14 yards.

Fresno State travelled 77 yards in nine plays and Matthews carried-in from one yard to post a 17-7 score with 6:46 remaining. The effort would replay itself three and a half minutes later, with Matthews entering the end zone once again to generate the 24-7 final.

North Carolina 44, Rutgers 12

PISCATWAY, N.J. – Despite a 109-yard receiving performance from junior wide-out Kenny Britt, the Scarlet Knights (0-2) dropped a 44-12 decision to North Carolina (2-0) before a sellout crowd of 42,502 at Rutgers Stadium. Junior line-backer Ryan D'Imperio posted a career-high 13 tackles and senior Kevin Malast added 11 stops, but it was not enough to stop an opportune Tar Heel offense.

The Scarlet Knights generated more total yards than their visitors, but were tormented by turnovers. Rutgers committed four turnovers, while the Tar Heels had none. The turnovers led to 13 points for the visitors. UNC also converted eight-of-16 third down attempts, while the home squad was unable to convert on third down.

North Carolina native San San Te split the uprights from 34 yards to provide a 3-0 advantage with 13:55 remaining in the opening stanza.

After an interception, the visitors owned a first down at the home 32-yard line. UNC would travel just six yards on the next three plays, before Jay Wooten kicked a 43-yard field goal. A nine-yard scoring toss from Yates to Hakeem Nicks with 9:28 remaining before the midpoint resulted in a 10-3 deficit for the Scarlet Knights.

Rutgers answered with a score of its own on its next drive. Senior signal-caller Mike Teel led the team 67 yards on 12 plays. Te capped the effort with a 32-yard field goal.

A play action pass proved successful for UNC, with Yates finding Brandon Tate racing down the right side for a 69-yard touchdown connection.

North Carolina scored three times in the third quarter to put the game out of reach.
